“Historical Building Collective Ornaments”

Limited Edition Historical Building Ornaments are available at the Morris Graves Museum of Art, 636 F Street in Eureka.

The 2006 historical building ornament is the beautifully restored and renovated 1920 Sweasey Theatre, now the Arkley Center for the Performing Arts, which celebrated its grand opening on Friday, February 2, 2007. This historic building, in a new century of service as the Arkley Performing Arts Center, is a treasured gift to the community from owners Rob and Cherie Arkley, and offers the community a wonderful venue to Celebrate the Arts!

Other ornaments that are also available at the Museum Store of the Morris Graves Museum of Art are the historic Benbow Inn, the Gross Building, the Professional Building, the William Carson Mansion, the Eureka Inn, the Carnegie/Eureka Free Public Library now the Morris Graves Museum of Art, and the historic Vance Hotel. Limited edition ornaments that are sold out are the historic Washington School and the Pink Lady.

For more information call the Museum Store at 442-0278 Ext. 201.
